

HINDU COTTON PICKERS VANISH FROM IMPERIAL

Correspondence Associated Press
EL CENTRO, Calif., May 12.—Hundreds of Hindus who have been employed picking cotton and at other jobs on Imperial valley farms, have mysteriously disappeared. Several large colonies have been depleted and the few remaining Asiatics are here who hold land leases which do not expire for several months.

Observers of conditions in the valley believe the concerted exodus was the result of orders transmitted by native priests who have labored among the Hindus for several months past. A score of laborers are known to have departed for jobs in the salt river valley in Arizona but the destination of others who left the region for the higher is unknown.

Several months ago, local residents said a native priest appeared in the Hindu colonies here and an Imperial camp. These priests held services for

HENNESSY GETS LEDGE IN SHAFT

The ledge was encountered in the Hennessy Divide shaft yesterday and shows a clean, well defined hanging wall with about two feet of gouge matter on top of the ledge. Considerable sulphides are showing but the values were low for the first round of much which included only a small amount of ledge material. Good values might be expected when the center of the vein is reached as it was a sixfoot section near the center of the ledge that assayed $6 on the surface. The hangingwall shows that the vein has straightened up from 45 per cent on the surface to 75 per cent at a vertical depth in the shaft of 115 feet.

Sinking will be continued in any event until a depth of at least 250 feet has been attained before a station is cut.

Blanks have been received from the New York Curb Exchange for getting Hennessy stock and will be returned with application for listing there. The largest holders of Hennessy stock are in New York and it is at their request that the listing on the curb will be made.

Correspondence Associated Press
EL PASO, Texas, May 12.—Colonel Federico Cervantes' statement on the witness stand in federal court, during a trial on a libel-baiting charge, that he had been driving a jitney bus in El Paso, was another instance of how prominent and powerful leaders in Mexico were forced to seek any employment possible when driven from their country by the revolution.

WARM SPRINGS IN THE ARCTIC REGION

Correspondence Associated Press
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 10.—Government railroad engineers making soundings for a bridge across the Salmon River, 151 miles north of Anchorage, have determined that warm springs underlie a part of the river. In the ice of the river early in the spring of each year a rift about 1000 feet long and 25 feet wide occurs, they report, and this open stretch of water does not close until the freezing weather of the following winter. The rift in the ice precedes by nearly two months the movement of ice from the lower stretches of the stream.

DUPLICATES OF MINES ARE FINDING FAVOR

Correspondence Associated Press

BUITE, Mo., May 12.—To have the "moxys," which he started making as a means of diversion during leisure hours, come into demand in remote corners of the earth, and to have them figure in the course of important litigation is the experience of F. A. Linforth, a geologist and mining engineer.

In a little engineering mining school in a corner of his home at Linforth, a graduate of the University of California, 10 years ago began moulding or folding to be mine models, miniature models of mine plans and mining machinery out of various kinds of paper and cardboard. It became a hobby with him, and he became so fond of the models that he was induced to reproduce them on almost a scratch chart, made the vast and complicated mine works of the largest mines of the world so precisely that miners could sound out the various stages of values in which they worked.

An exploration company which is building a large smelter in Chile recently requested Mr. Linforth to make a paper model color map of the location of the proposed plant and to build on it the smelter. With out ever having seen the ground Mr. Linforth, by means of surveys sent him made a reproduction of the 1000s of acres in extent and built on it the miniature smelter which the company since has actually begun construction work on its South American property. The model was made on a scale of 100 feet to the inch.

Minature duplicates of mines have been ordered by mining men to be sent to New York and other large cities.

100s in order to interest financiers in operating oxygen capital companies. The model of a tunnel round in size in the University of California finds with the result that a communication came from Argentina asking Mr. Linforth to represent for an audience of certain mine owners and managers of the United States.

As it is south American mining produce an increasing market for them in their class among mining men, the Great Pacific Mine owner in detail with every piece of machinery in place and the consequent value to the mineral deposit.

On the Missouri Central, coal sales are involving millions of dollars a month and Mr. Linforth's services have been sought to reproduce for examination up to the exact proportions models of two of the largest mines in the Rockies area. When the case comes to trial the world will follow the argument which involves rights to valuable veins by taking the points mentioned in the testimony around out.

Mr. Linforth never goes to business and Mr. Linforth often goes to no such men as contractors to supply him—mineral interests of the world, and to the majority of the millionaires of the country.

Minature duplicates of mines have been ordered by mining men to be sent to New York and other large cities.

Hundreds of mining men have visited the scene of the new strike made by Thomas J. Clark in the south end of Klondyke Divide district during the past week and it seems to be the general opinion that another of the big mines has been discovered. Although work has only started, further sampling of the big ledge running through the property for 2600 feet indicates that the first assays taken running from $51.00 to $278.00 per ton was no mistake and those interested are it possible more than ever enthused over the possibilities of this great gold property.
